1. Zaghi, Soroush, Acar, Mariana, Hultgren, Brittney, Boggio, Paulo S. and Felipe Fregni. Noninvasive brain stimulation with low-intensity electrical currents: putative mechanisms of action for direct current and alternating current stimulation. Neuroscientist Online First. December, 2009, 24 pp. Note: The authors classify the Alpha-Stim with a group of AC devices (it is a bipolar DC), but admit that the effects may be highly dependent on the specific parameters of stimulation.
